OPENING OF THE GRAMMAR SCHOOLS

The Financial Situation in the Glendale City District—Lists of Teachers, etc.

The grammar schools open Monday next and the pupils are requested to assemble promptly at 9 o'clock.

The grammar schools of Glendale, West Glendale and Tropic districts start their fall term next Monday. This is a good time, therefore, to take an account of stock. The grammar schools are still somewhat nearer to the people than are the high schools; in the latter the trustees have the whole management in their own hands, having the power practically to say how much money shall be spent and how. The last legislature gave this power to the grammar school trustees also, although the state and county money is as yet distributed according to rule; that is the trustees may now recommend to the superintendent who in turn recommends it to the supervisors, that the district be assessed for whatever amount their judgment dictates, in addition to the regular allowance. Until this change was made, the trustees were compelled to limit the expenditures to the allowance made by state and county and special tax. Now they are not required to submit the question of a special tax to the voters, but can secure the same results as stated above. It is a simpler process and gets results. The trustees of the Glendale city district this year are asking for the sum of $3208. The school census for this year showed that there were 462 children of school age (5 to 17) in the district. The state and county money on the usual basis of 70 pupils to a teacher and an additional teacher for every fraction in excess over twenty, would have given the Glendale district seven teachers, but in the judgment of the trustees, eleven teachers are required, therefore the necessity for the additional special tax of $3208. The fund supplied on the basis of census children, however, is not the only one. There is a sum also received from state and county apportioned on the basis of daily average attendance, which in Glendale city district last year was 311; for every one of these units the sum of $45 is allowed, amounting to $5598. The first fund, therefore, supplies the sum of $3850, and the second the amount of $5598, making a total allowance from both state and county of $9448. This, therefore, was the sum that the trustees found at their disposal for the coming year. This is the sum that previous to this year would have been to supply the needs of the district for the year, unless the voters themselves decreed otherwise and authorized a special tax. State and county money last year amounted to $3189.20. Hereafter the two funds proposed of above are to be combined into one. The assessed valuation of the district last year was $1,421,121; this year's valuation is not yet known.

WEST GLENDALE SCHOOL.

This school with the others in the valley opens next Monday morning. All the old teachers were re-appointed, as follows: Mrs. F. G. Taylor, principal; Miss Miller, Miss Yarnell, Miss Erickson and Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, special teacher of music. The census gave the district 177 children of school age, but since the count was made, considerable additions have been made to the number and it is probable that this section is growing so rapidly that the problem of providing adequate educational facilities keeps constantly growing more difficult. Only the north half of the new building will be used for the present.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The tennis tournament at the Glendale Country Club opened under perfect weather conditions last Saturday. In the men's singles M. Walton defeated E. Keating 3-6, 6-0, 6-2. H. Davern won from Kilgore 6-3, 6-1. Lowery and Balhis defeated Keating and Large 6-0, 6-0, and Stanton and Ganahl defeated Blue and Kilgore 6-3, 6-1 in the men's doubles.

The best play of the second day's events on last Monday was in the match between J. MacLafferty and last year's single champion, and H. Brown and B. Oxnard and M. Walton.

The match was won by MacLafferty and Brown in straight sets, 6-2, 8-6, after some fast and brilliant playing. In the afternoon MacLafferty and Brown were defeated by Stanton and Ganahl 6-4, 7-5, in the semi-finals of the men's doubles. MacLafferty and Brown showed effects of the morning's games but lost the match only after some very close playing, one of the games in the last set reverting to deuce several times.

In the men's singles Morrow defeated Stanton 6-1, 6-4; Oxnard defeated Large 6-2, 6-0, and Woods lost to H. Brown.

CLIMPS OF ALASKA.

Miss Ruth Byram, who has recently visited Alaska, tells wonderful tales of cities where strawberries grow on and raspberry bushes aspire to become trees.

In Wrangell, the first stopping place, everything grows to abnormal size, our smallest daisies and pansies looking like another family of plants. It is here tourists procure their beautiful Alaskan bear skins.

The town itself is a sleepy little place, the streets outlined by board sidewalks. A sign posted in a prominent place announced the arrival of a dentist to spend a week in town, and all saved up toothaches could be taken to him to be cured in that wonderful week.

At Petersburg the salmon fisheries were of great interest, the fish being canned and then cooked.

Treadwell and Douglas City were interesting cities, Treadwell being well known because of its gold mines, (the largest in the world). In the stamp mills at this place the noise is so deafening that to save ear drums the guide hurried the party through to the concentration mill.

Juneau, the capital of Southern Alaska, is a picturesque city curled up in a pocket of wonderfully green high mountains.

Glacier Bay, Skagway and Sitka were each unique. Sitka especially, with its totem poles, and if one could only own a family tree whose most worthy member displayed the sacred frog on the top of the totem pole he was a "blueblood."

A reminder of home came suddenly when at Funter Bay near Skagway a case of salmon stood ready for shipment addressed M. A. Newmark. Los Angeles was the dancing of Viola Yorba, in should be. All good things coming to California.

BUILDING OPERATIONS AND REAL ESTATE.

F. S. Dupuy has laid the foundation for a garage, 40x80 feet on the lot recently purchased by him on Glendale avenue below Fourth street. It will have a cement floor, galvanized iron walls and roof, to cost $1200.

Chas. L. Wallace has taken out a permit for his residence on Cedar street to cost $2500. Modern throughout with seven rooms.

A. W. Raadolph is starting a fine new structure on Glendale avenue above Ninth, designed for his own residence. It will consist of two stories and have five rooms on each story, with all modern conveniences. The cost will be between $4000 and $4500.

Mrs. Admison has taken out a permit for a dwelling on Kenwood street between 5th and 6th, to cost $500.

A. Skeland, 10th and Adams streets, is making additions to his house at a cost of $500.

A $300 addition is being made to the residence of H. L. Miller, 9th and Adams streets.

Permits have been granted for a number of small additions.

Mr. G. H. Barager has bought from E. V. Williams an acre on the south-east corner of Sixth and Adams streets with a two-story house and other improvements. Mr. Williams and family will remove to Los Angeles at once.

MOTOR-CYCLE ACCIDENT.

Last Monday evening just before midnight a serious accident occurred on the San Fernando road. Tropic, which nearly proved fatal to one of the parties concerned. We have not, however, been able to learn any names in connection with the affair. It seems that a motor cycle carrying a man and his wife going towards Los Angeles, were run into by a reckless rider coming the other way and said to be traveling at a terrific rate of speed. The collision was caused by a wagon in the road which prevented the drivers of the two machines from seeing each other and in swerving around the obstruction the single rider ran square into the one with the two passengers, knocking them several feet. The lady suffered several severe bruises, her husband being the most seriously injured, however. He fell on his face and shoulder, and was badly cut and bruised. He was carried to Dr. Thompson's sanitarium at Burbank and later brought to the Glendale Sanitarium, where he is recovering slowly. The other rider passed on without even troubling himself to inquire as to the extent of the injuries suffered by the unconscious man, who received immediate treatment from Dr. Tholen of Tropic.

A HOLIDAY OUTING.

Labor Day was celebrated in true holiday spirit by those employed in L. C. Brand's office. The employees and their families were invited to spend the day at Miradero, Mr. Brand's interesting foothill home.

A special car brought the guests from town, and from the car several autos conveyed the party to the picturesque little club house built near the tennis court at Miradero.

The morning was spent in games, tennis, etc., while the more energetic ones climbed the mountains at the back of the club house.

The noon hour brought a feast indeed, a real barbecue! Had there been formality before it would have been—at this hour—quite superfluous, for luncheon was served cafeteria style on the tennis grounds and such an abundance of goodies. It assuredly was a country spread.

Dancing and games were enjoyed in the afternoon and especially interesting was the dancing of Viola Yorba, in her famous Spanish dancing.

We want your trade and will give the best the market affords for the least money. Glendale Market.

At Somerset Farm last Saturday Mrs. J. C. Sherer entertained a small party of old friends, chiefly members of the Townsend family, originally of West Chester, Pa., who "happened" together in California. Hinman of Moline, Illinois; Mr. George Townsend of Los Angeles; Mr. T. Ellwood Townsend of Somerset Farm. Other guests were Mrs. Charles E. Parker, Miss Ada Shields, Miss R. M. Sherer. #### WOMAN'S FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Wednesday evening the W. F. M. S. held the regular monthly meeting at the Methodist church, the Sunday school room being tastefully decorated for the occasion, flowers about the room with bright rugs on the floor giving the place a cheerful and homelike appearance.

As usual the business meeting was conducted with Mrs. Hendershot presiding, and at this meeting the delegates for the branch meeting at Redlands the first part of October were elected.

Mrs. Lennox and Mrs. Harn were the ladies chosen, while Mrs. Hendershot, the president, goes by right of office.

After business was concluded an enjoyable program was given. Mrs. Bryant gave a solo and was as always heartily enjoyed. Following the song was a reading by Lena McGee after which Rev. Humphrey gave a very instructive talk on "The Relation of Women's Foreign Missionary Society to the Parent Board of the Methodist Church."

Then came Mrs. Woodcock, the guest of honor, who delighted her audience with a spicy talk on missions. Mrs. Woodcock organized the first W. F. M. S. in the valley when the little church stood on Glendale avenue, and therefore has a very sympathetic feeling for the Glendale and Tropic societies.

A social hour with refreshments brought the meeting to a happy ending.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY.

In retaliation for the action of her daughter, Miss Frances Eyre, who recently called in a company of friends to celebrate one of the mother's anniversaries, Mrs. William Mitchell of Lomita Park invited a number of friends to celebrate with her Miss Eyre's birthday last Wednesday evening. The party assembled under the protecting vines that cover the pergola adjoining the pleasant cottage and indulged in Five Hundred until called within to partake of lavish hospitality. The birthday cake was a feature of the collation—the count of candles varied, but they were sufficient. The first prize was won by Miss Emma Williams, of North Glendale; Dr. Hunt, carrying away the second honors. Excellent music, vocal and instrumental, was one of the enjoyable features of the evening.

ASK FOR DR. HUMPHREY'S RETURN.

At the last quarterly conference of the Glendale Methodist Episcopal church, a resolution was unanimously passed commending the pastor, Dr. J. F. Humphrey for the good and faithful work done by him in this charge during the conference year just closing, and requesting the annual conference of the church to return Dr. Humphrey to this charge for the ensuing year.

During Dr. Humphrey's pastorate the church has increased greatly. In membership, a debt of $1700 has been paid off and a great deal of enthusiasm for future work is apparent among the members. Great disappointment will be felt among Dr. Humphrey's congregation should the bishop not return him here as requested.

REBEKAHS ENTERTAIN.

The Rebekahs of Glendale informally received their friends at the I. O. O. F. hall on Wednesday evening.

The program was opened by a duet by Mrs. C. O. Pulliam and her daughter, Miss Emma, followed by readings and recitations by Miss Florence Hoffman and Miss Susie Robinson.

Miss Emma Pulliam gave a piano solo, while later in the evening additional music was given by Mrs. McMullin and her little daughter, the small musician making quite an impression. The remainder of the evening was spent in cards and dancing.

After the business music was enjoyed and discussed, after which refreshments were served.

It was ordered that ordinance for change of grade on Fourth street east of Adams street be read twice and laid over. The city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance prohibiting drunkenness in the corporate limits of Glendale.

Magoffin-Patterson

One of the charming brides of the week was Miss Mina Florence Patterson, daughter of Mrs. Frank D. Patterson, who was married to Mr. Eben Magoffin of Bisbee, Arizona, on Wednesday, September 8th, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Charles Warner Houston. Promptly at high noon the doors leading into the den were opened by the bride's little niece, Dorothy Marie, and the ceremony performed by Rev. M. S. Runkle of St. Mark's church.

The bride wore a dainty white lingerie gown over yellow and carried a shower bouquet of roses.

Previous to the ceremony Mrs. Alfred P. Metcalf charmingly rendered two wedding songs and during the reading of the service the Venetian orchestra softly played "Call Me Thine Own."

After the young people had received the hearty congratulations of their many friends, the wedding breakfast was served in the dining room. The latter was elaborately decorated in acacia and yellow daisies.

The spacious hall was a mass of asparagus fern and variegated asters, while the beamed ceiling of the living room was outlined with smilax and huge bouquets of shasta, daisies, ornamented the mantel. The den where the ceremony was performed was banked with palms and ferns, and canopied in asparagus fern and white roses.

Immediately following the breakfast the young couple departed for a trip through the state and after October fifteenth will receive their friends in their home at Warren, Arizona, where Mr. Magoffin is one of the prominent C. & A. mining engineers.

Mrs. Magoffin was formerly a student at the university of Stanford, and a graduate of the University of Southern California.

CROWDS GOING TO CIRCUS.

Many of Our Citizens Will See Ringling Show at Los Angeles.

A great many of our people are going to Los Angeles on the 21st and 22d to the Ringling Bros. Circus. It will be the only opportunity this year and the railroads are preparing to handle thousands of visitors from the surrounding territory.

Ringling Brothers have made many important improvements since they last appeared in this part of the country. At Madison Square Garden, New York, where the season began, the performances were attended nightly by the biggest crowds that ever saw a circus in Manhattan, and the newspapers were not backward about saying that the Ringling Brothers were presenting, in every respect, the best entertainment of the kind ever given there.

The performances in Los Angeles will be identical with those given in the Garden, not the slightest change having been made in the long program.

The circus offered this year is one of wonderful novelty. Instead of the usual single thriller presented by other circuses, the Ringling Brothers are heading their bill with no less than seven of the greatest and most sensational acts that have ever been presented anywhere on earth.

The parade will be given in the forenoon. It will far surpass the brilliant pageants which the Ringling Brothers have given in past years, having been entirely rebuilt in the foreign workshops of the show at Liverpool, England.

Thursday would have been a good day to learn roller skating in Glendale. The streets were empty, the citizens away at Long Beach on the Eastern Star picnic, and the city officials at Santa Monica the guests of that city invited down for the opening of the cement pier.

OUR DIRECTORY.

The Glendale, Tropic, North and West Glendale and Casa Verdugo Directory seems to be filling a long felt want. Being the first attempt at a complete directory of this portion of the San Fernando valley, it has a special value which will increase as time goes on and will be of immense interest from a historical point of view after a while. It is not perfect, but for a first effort the publishers have just reasons for being quite well satisfied with it, as has the public at large.

The people who were of the opinion that the last regular grand jury in Los Angeles should have indicted city officials for "grafting" may now see a great deal of wisdom in their opinion. The grand jury secured the conviction of the notorious Nick Oswald, implicating ex-Mayor Harper, ex-Chief of Police Kern and Capt. Broadhead, charging them with accepting bribe money from him. Now after a long and expensive trial, Broadhead is acquitted, notwithstanding Oswald's testimony. The result shows the difficulty of convincing twelve men that a confessed criminal's word can be relied on. It also illustrates the fallibility of public opinion. While many people will continue to believe that Captain Broadhead has been guilty of accepting bribe money, it should be borne in mind that the twelve men who heard and weighed all the testimony in the case, are much more capable of passing just judgment than is the public at large.

Sixty years has the star California blazed in the galaxy of states. The state came into the union at a time when the question of slavery was paramount in the nation, and the debate over the admission into the union of a commonwealth which had a constitution prohibiting that institution within its limits, was animated and bitter. But the friends of freedom in congress were in the majority and California, dedicated to the principle of equal rights for all men, came into the family of states. The story of California reads like a fairy tale and the exploits of its pioneers can scarcely be exaggerated in romance. The founders of all the states comprised a large proportion of heroes, but on account of the discovery of gold and the exciting chapters of history furnished by that fact alone, California's record is unique and of most thrilling interest. Admission day is one of the holidays which should have a general observance and the day should be devoted to exercises which would serve to make citizens of all ages more familiar with the history of the state and prouder of their heritage.

THE NORTH POLE DISCOVERIES.

September, 1909—April, 1908, and April, 1909, promise to go down into history as notable dates. Within five days of each other, Sept. 1st, and Sept. 5th, came the announcement from two different men, working each for himself and independently, that they had attained the northernmost point of the world, a goal for which adventurous spirits have been striving for four hundred years. This great achievement and remarkable coincidence recalls a similar triumph of science in a different sphere when in 1846 the planet Neptune was discovered almost simultaneously by Leverrier and Clark, in observatories as widely separated as Berlin and Cambridge, England. Although the announcements reached civilization at so nearly the same time, the first discovery seems to have been made by Dr. Cook in April, 1908, a year ahead of Peary.

There seems to be little doubt in the minds of scientists generally that both men have actually stood upon that point of the earth's circumference over which hangs perpetually in the zenith the north star. It is a wonderful triumph of science, perseverance and pluck, and the least we can hope for the intrepid explorers is that there be enough glory in the performance to serve them both!

AN EXAMPLE TO FOLLOW.

Within a fortnight the cable has flashed under the waters of the Atlantic two important news items from London which should convince every American however afflicted with spread-eagleism, that England in some things sets a high example which we would do well to follow.

One dispatch informs us that during the past year the railroads have not taken one human life in England and we are under the impression that this remarkable record is not altogether unprecedented in that country. We have not the mortality statistics of our American railways for the same period, but have, no doubt, that their victims number hundreds. And yet they have fast trains over there; one or two being among the fastest in the world. The other fact of interest is the announcement that the trial of Madar Lal Dhinagri, who murdered an Indian service official, consumed something less than a day, and that after the sentence was pronounced he was very promptly and properly hanged. It goes without saying also that sympathetic women were not permitted to lavish flowers upon him nor was he permitted to make any speech from the scaffold. England is slow, but somehow or other she has built up through the centuries of her existence a system which is about as nearly perfect in the safety it affords to life and property as any merely human system of law is likely to be under the present dispensation.

TAXES INCREASED.

The announcement is made that the state board of equalization, by a vote of three to two has increased the assessed valuation of Los Angeles county forty per cent. Riverside county is raised fifty per cent and Ventura county one hundred per cent, while the increase in the valuation of the northern counties in only one or two cases equals twenty-five per cent. This means that his county will pay about one-fourth of the expenses of the state government. In this connection a few statistics are to the point. In 1903 the valuation of Los Angeles county was $154,712,785; San Francisco $545,866,446. In 1909 without the forty per cent raise, Los Angeles county is assessed at $420,671,650 and San Francisco $492,865,197. This shows an increase in the valuation of Los Angeles county of $255,958,865. It further shows that during the same period San Francisco decreased $53,001,249. With the forty per cent added Los Angeles is for assessment purposes valued at $56,076,113 more than San Francisco. During the past three years the insurance companies alone have turned over to San Francisco the immense sum of $300,000,000, which has mostly been put into new buildings and it therefore seems upon the surface that the assessment of San Francisco should be increased rather than have the burden of increase put upon Southern California. The increase by the state board has the appearance of being unreasonable and unjust and it is so serious that the effect of it promises to be far reaching. Southern California will not submit to what it has reason to consider unfair discrimination against it and the action of the state board will be followed by a great deal of bitterness between the sections and a revival of state division agitation.

THE COST OF OUR SCHOOLS.

The article we published last week in regard to the High School and that in this issue covering the grammar school, giving an idea of the total expense to the taxpayers of this necessary adjunct of our civilization, should receive careful attention. We are a generous people when it comes to the question of education, we want the best and are willing to pay well for it. But the expense of our school system is growing so rapidly that if it is not checked soon there will be a reaction and we shall go backwards to the other extreme. The demands of those who control it in the high places seem to be insatiable; every successive year witnesses new departures, none of which are in the direction of economy. The legislature, catering always to popularity, grants the educational department whatever it asks. The action of that body at its last session in changing the law so as to give power to local school boards to raise extra money by taxation without any submission of the question to the people, is certainly a move in the wrong direction and can only serve to encourage school boards in extravagance. The money raised for school purposes in this state should suffice to furnish free school books and supplies to every student in our public schools, and yet aside from the heavy taxation for schools, the cost of school books is a heavy drain upon parents and guardians, one which in many cases is almost prohibitive. If some of our people who devote so much of their time and talent to wholesale schemes for the betterment of the whole world in general would condescend to come down from the clouds and wrestle with concrete facts such as the above, we should have hopes of a betterment of conditions.

The question is before parents, voters and citizens generally and upon them depends its solution, and concretely stated it is this: How shall we economize in our expenditures for education and at the same time make the attainment by our young people of an education that will enable them to become good and useful citizens, less expensive in the expenditure of both time and money?

BULL FIGHTS UP TO DATE

At least one of the perplexing problems of the ages has been solved. Los Angeles is promised the exquisite opportunity of witnessing a bull fight that shall be perfectly harmless to the bulls. While Spain has been trying in vain to arrange matters so that the bull fighters will not get injured and has not succeeded at all, the United States, always in the forefront of every philanthropic movement, has taken up the cause of the bull. It is a most happy, nay a most providential dispensation that practically at the same moment of time, by a most remarkable coincidence, two great nations, the purpose of each unknown to the other, should have solved each one-half of a great problem. Spain protects the bull, doubtless, by action of the cortes at its next assembly, and the United States through its philanthropic representatives in Los Angeles, through the aegis (see Century dictionary) of its philanthropic genius before the bull fighter!

We may soon expect to witness bull fights which instead of being productive of blood and bruises will be uplifting—soporific, indeed, such as the fairest lady or the most dainty gentleman, can indulge in before breakfast and still be able to call for cantaloupes.

Reference to this great triumph of peace would be incomplete without giving full credit to whom credit is due, and that is to the good ladies of the S. P. C. A. Theirs has been the striving and to them shall be accorded the full measure of the appreciation of a hitherto wicked but now repentant world. These ladies have read, not with avidity we trust, but with a high sense of duty, all the obtainable literature descriptive of bull fighting. They have noticed that it frequently happened that the gentle four-footed creatures from the Andalusian forests, or the Hackensack drove yards, as the case may be, frequently were injured in their efforts to amuse the populace by tossing the matadore into the air on their horns. It would frequently occur that the matadore would fall down again, necessitating the bull's making extra exertions to keep him in the air, which in some instances made the animal real tired and was apt to dislodge his horns. An appeal to the king of Spain seems to have been without result; his sympathies were with the matadores, but when the chivalrous public amusement caterers in Los Angeles were appealed to, their response was prompt and proper.

Bull fights are to be inaugurated in Los Angeles next winter upon principles laid down by the ladies of the S. P. C. A. We have not the official details to present to our readers, but from various tips received from the inside we learn that the following will be a few of the features. The ring will be sprinkled with rose water and the band will play.

"Oh where is my wandering matadore When I last saw him he felt quite sore!"

A herald in mauve jacket and pink tights will announce the terms of the contest and the bull will enter garlanded with club colors. His antagonist, pushing a portable cast iron parapet before him will advance slowly, reading Browning in a large and arrogant voice. Of course, the animal will not understand this and will seek to interrogate the reader who will place himself on the right side of the portable protector from which coin of vantage he will hurl at the poor beast, swift barbed sentences from Tupper's Philosophy, Walt Whitman, Bernard Shaw and Lydia Pinkham. The uneven contest will not, of course, continue long, the bull will collapse and be revived by a shower bath of patchouly, and the victor will be confronted with another opponent more worthy of his—cast iron—. But why go into the horrible details—enough is as good as a feast!

HAPPY SURPRISE.

One of the happiest surprises ever held at G. A. R. hall was given Miss Cora Hickman, one of the trustees of the hall, Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Alfred Engelhardt, assisted by members of N. P. Banks Post and Corps. Miss Hickman has been untiring in remodeling and refurbishing G. A. R. hall and the handsome new banquet hall. In this worthy cause she has been assisted by Mrs. Engelhardt who is also a trustee, and Mrs. Edward H. Weston, trustee, as well as the entire post and corps. Miss Hickman has longed for an altar for the hall and frequently remarked that as soon as the debt incurred by these improvements had been liquidated then a handsome altar would be purchased.

Mr. Walter J. Hibbert heard of this and taking Mrs. Alfred Engelhardt and Robert Taylor into his confidence planned and made a handsome altar to be presented the post and corps as a surprise to Miss Hickman and as a fitting testimonial of her unswerving loyalty to the Old Flag and its brave defenders.

By a clever ruse Miss Hickman was present Saturday afternoon and enjoyed her surprise as much as did all those who assembled from Los Angeles, San Pedro, Glendale and Burbank. Department Commander W. S. Dambenspeck of Los Angeles with his staff of officers was present and gave a patriotic address. The altar was presented the post and corps by Rev. J. H. Henry, chaplain of N. P. Banks Post. Miss Hickman made the speech of acceptance followed by an address by W. J. Hibbert, the maker and donor of this handsome altar which is four feet long, three feet wide and three feet high. Four beautifully carved pillars are supported by four miniature cannon balls. One of the panels is a facsimile of the Liberty Bell carved from Sequoia wood. In the background on a field of blue is painted thirteen stars. So realistic is this miniature Liberty bell that even the crack is discernible and several were observed trying to remove it thinking it was a thread which was clinging to the bell. Another side is a monument supporting an infantryman carrying his musket. G. A. R. and W. R. C. in gold letters are on the other sides respectively. By pressing a small spring a door opens and four small silk flags spring up bearing a dove. These flags represent the four capitals, Plymouth, Jamestown, Philadelphia and Washington. The dove of peace overlooks the open Bible.

Following the presentation a most interesting and varied program was given and in conclusion a banquet was served at which one hundred guests were seated. The banquet hall was decorated in potted plants, masses of pink flowers and garlands of pink and green.

Mrs. Engelhardt was assisted by Mrs. Charles Snow, Mrs. E. B. Ellias, Mrs. D. H. Imler, Mrs. Susie Miller, Comrades Robert Taylor and J. B. Hickman.

Section 4. SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

September, 12th, 1909.

(Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)

Close of Paul's Third Missionary Journey. Acts xxi:1-17.

Golden Text: The will of the Lord be done—Acts xxi:14.

Verses 1-3—Where was Paul bound for?

Had Paul clearly received Divine instructions to go to Jerusalem or was he simply gratifying his own desires? (See Acts xxi:16, 22-23.)

If a devoted man has a longing to go to a place, or to do a thing, is it safe for him to conclude that the longing is of God?

Because there is danger involved in a journey, or an enterprise, in connection with our religion, should we allow our rivalry alone to be the incentive for us to undertake it?

Is there any ground for the opinion that good men have sometimes rushed unnecessarily into danger?

Verses 4-17—If Christians have to tarry in a town should they hunt up the followers of Jesus?

If these disciples were told "through the Spirit" that Paul should not go up to Jerusalem why did he not heed them?

If there is no record that Paul had a direct call from God to go up to Jerusalem, would that, taken in connection with what these disciples said, indicate that Paul was doing wrong in going?

Is there danger that good men may be led by pious impulses, to do unwise things, which they could be saved from if they waited to cool off, and to get the mind of God? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

If it should prove that Paul was wrong in going to Jerusalem, which finally led to his martyrdom, would that in any way lessen our respect for him, or lessen his influence upon the world?

Verses 5-7—Should the children always be taken to church and to all religious gatherings?

Should a company of Christians, when bidding good-bye to one another on the wharf, or at the railway station, feel as free to get down on their knees and pray, as they are to stand and shake hands?

Why is it that Christians are not as willing to be seen talking to God, or praying, on the street, as they are to be seen talking to their fellows?

Verses 8-9—Who was Philip, and for what one thing is he distinguished in this gospel story?

Should Christian parents train their children from infancy to know God, to be skillful in prayer, in faith, and in good works?

Is there not a way for parents to train their children, so that the promise can be realized with absolute certainty in Joel 2:28, "Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy?"

Which is the more desirable, to have a son, or a daughter, noted for spirituality and soul saving, or for money making?

Verses 11-12—Did this noted prophet Agabus (See Acts xi:27-28) join with the rest of the saints in saying, that the Holy Spirit told them, that Paul ought not to go to Jerusalem?

Is there any way to consistently suppose that both parties to this loving controversy were right?

Suppose Agabus and the others were right in persuading Paul not to go to Jerusalem, but that Paul still thought he ought to go, what would be Paul's duty in the circumstances?

If a good man says he has a message from God for us, are we under obligation to obey whether our judgment may concur or not?

Verses 13-17—Can you recall in all history a greater example of fortitude and bravery than here displayed by Paul?
